Website Description:
I used to go to art school. I don't anymore, obviously, but art is still very important to me. I decided this class presents the perfect opportunity to create a website/portfolio for myself. I have no interest in copywriting my art, as it's all just personal and not commercial, so I consider it an archive. I want to create a site that features some albums of my art and a link to my resume and a bit about myself.
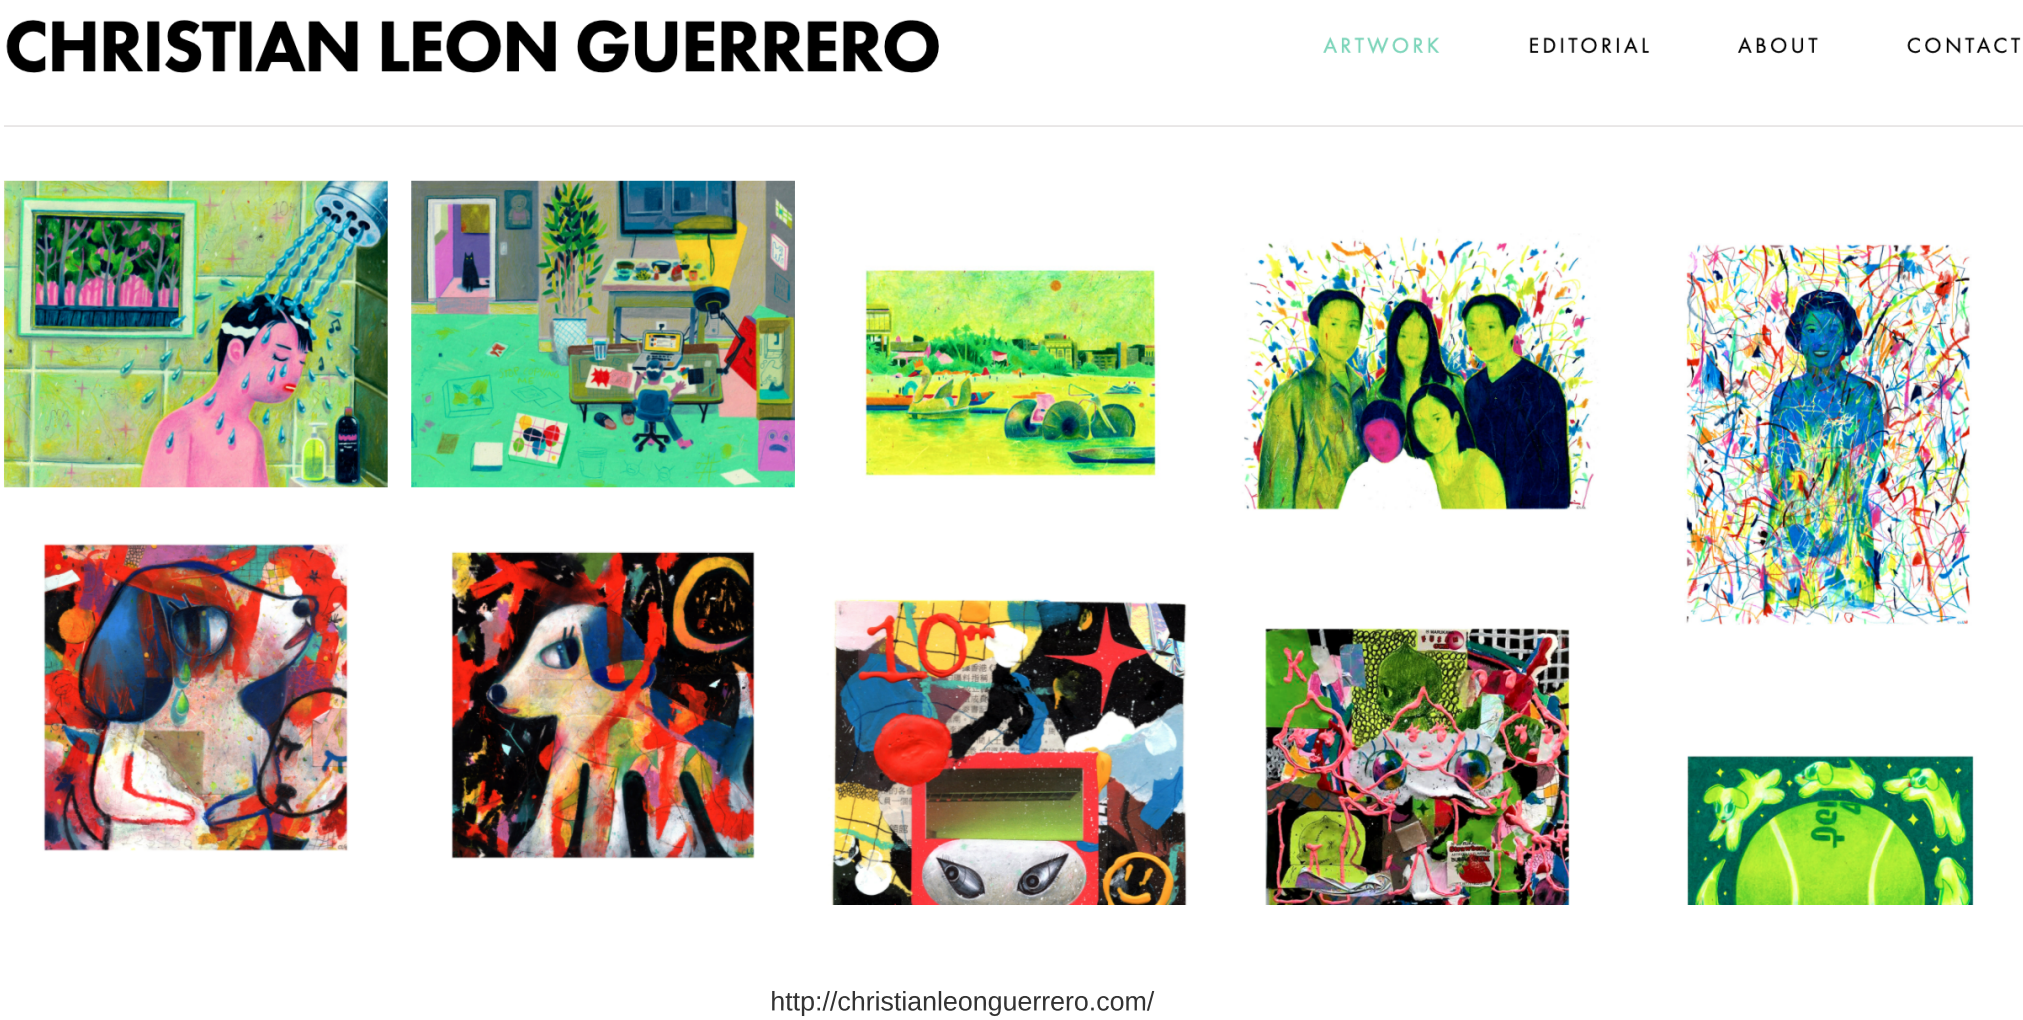

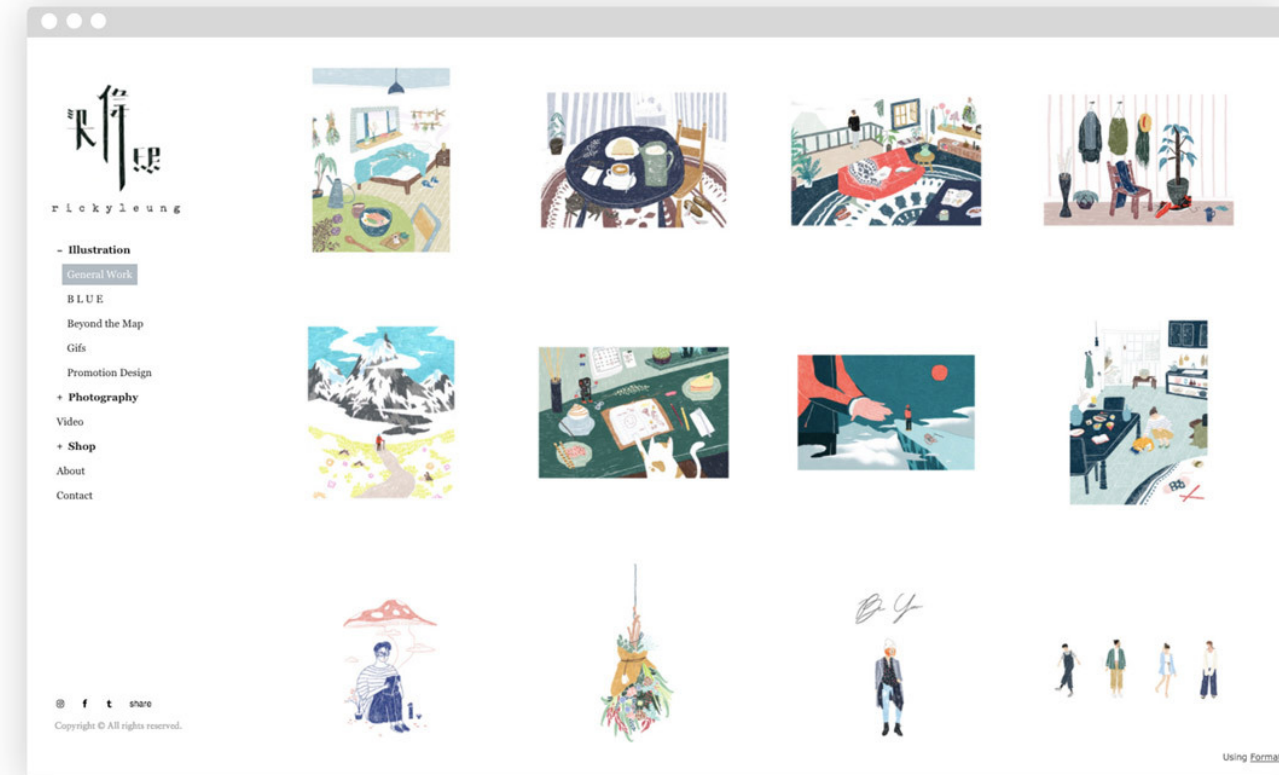

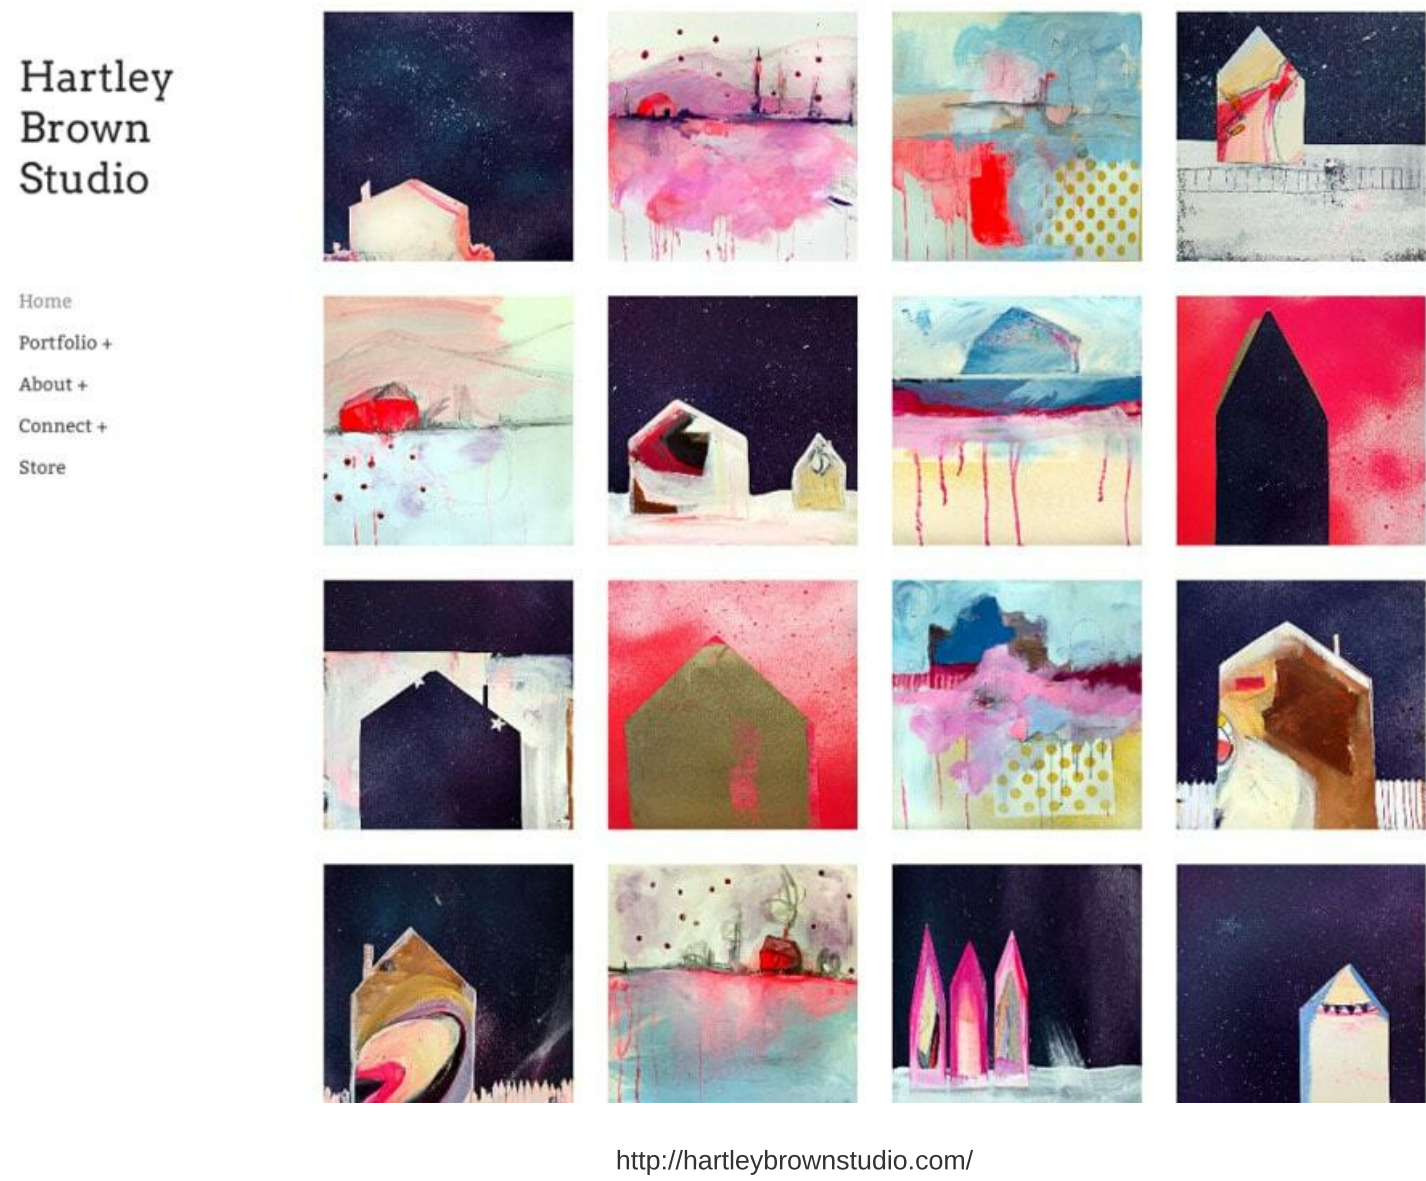

Features
• Blog
 ◦ The blog section will have short blog posts from myself about my art practice
• Portfolio
 ◦ This will include several albums of my work. Illustration, portraits, printmaking, and photography
• External links
 ◦ Links to my Resume
 ◦ Relevant articles
• Contact
 ◦ A contact page for visitors to reach me personally/provide feedback

The New UMoMA Opens its Doors

Data & Functionality Description:
Most of the resources will be images, so simple galleries will probably be enough. I want to make sure that they are aesthetically pleasing and can categorize my art. I want the website to be simple so that you don't get lost. I will upload all my art to GitHub.
Different pages will contain galleries of my art.

Wireframing and Prototyping:
For the interface design of my website, I will be using Figma software to build my layout.
